

CEDAR FUND - RED PACKET CAMPAIGN

CHANGING CLIMATE, UNCHANGED CHILDHOOD

Climate change has led to more frequent extreme weather events, forcing people in poor countries to flee their homes as the only way to survive. Children are compelled to escape with their families, losing not only their homes but also facing issues such as malnutrition and disrupted education. They have become 'climate refugees'.

We hope that through your participation, CEDAR can serve vulnerable families and children in the Middle East, Asia, and Africa. Even in the face of climate change, may these children keep their innocence and enjoy a happy childhood. Please join the Red Packet Campaign by giving your red packet money to children in need.

Donate Your Red Packet Money

Choose to donate the money you receive in red packets. Attach a 'Lucky Sticker' to your red packets and send blessings to impoverished communities.

Donate with the 'CEDAR Red Packet'

Fill in the donation form inside the 'CEDAR Red Packet'. You may also pass the red packets to your friends and family to encourage them to turn their blessings into action.

Invite Us to Share

CEDAR can share real-life stories of children affected by climate displacement, helping more people to understand their situations and needs.
